

$17.5 million

Ken Gilfillan of Jaynes will be presenting their newest project to hit downtown... the Broadway Pier Cruise Ship Terminal. The terminal building constructed of steel metal framing is located on the Broadway Pier in downtown San Diego's harbor. The terminal will house ticketing stations, customs stations, a Homeland Security station, passenger waiting area, baggage claim, passenger disembarking and baggage handling areas. San Diego is vying with the San Pedro port in the Los Angeles area for the new Disney family-cruise business slated to begin in February 2011. One of the key requirements for Disney will be upgraded terminal facilities to handle the passenger traffic.
